Perhaps we should say that this book tells you how to weave with a new kind of loom, because a piece of cardboard actually becomes your "loom". With a curved needle and almost any kind of yarn--plus Nature's offerings such as twigs, feathers, even seaweed--you can start this new craft. Needleweaving is one of the most flexible and inexpensive of creative crafts. You can do the simplest weaving, or you can develop your artistic abilities as far as they will take you. You might even call this is a free-wheeling art form because it is so versatile and personal. It is an adaptation of the ancient craft of weaving that is fast becoming a popular medium in self-expression and pleasure. Needleweaving is satisfying because you can share your creations in many forms. You can weave decorative accessories for your home, for your wardrobe, make gifts for friends, toys for children, Christmas tree ornaments...you can even weave greeting cards for very special people. In this book you will find so much more than the techniques, although they are all here, step by step. Even if you never put a strand of weft through warp, this book is bound to make you more aware of "art in everyday experience". We believe this a unique book that can enrich your life and bring you a new adventure.
