The Green Heart of Sabah explores the richest terrestrial habitats on our planet the tropical rainforests that cloak Sabah's interior. These forests are home to an incredible diversity of species and provide vital ecosystem-related services to the people of Sabah. The conservation areas that form the core of Sabah's 'Green Heart' - Danum Valley, Maliau Basin, Imbak Canyon and Gunung Silam - now lie embedded within a connected, mixed-use landscape that will become a model for the conservation and management of forest resources and diversity for future generations. Produced by Scubazoo, this new publication celebrates the 100th anniversary of the Sabah Forestry Department, and offers a glimpse into some of the most spectacular habitats on our planet the tropical forests of Sabah's 'Green Heart'.
